

Viewpoint Integrated Analytics

Skillfully manage risk, regulatory compliance and litigations with cutting-edge, efficient digital technology.

Challenges we help solve

- Growth and complexity of data
- Increasing and changing regulations
- Reliance on expensive external resources and consultants
- Time and cost of document reviews
- Third party vendor and technology inefficiencies
- Ability to leverage disparate data sources to enrich reporting
- Employee and customer privacy protection
- Resource intensive processes

Driven by the rapid pace of business, regulatory change and expanding volumes of information produced each year, legal and compliance departments struggle to keep up.

Information is an organization's lifeblood.

The call to harness technology to simplify processes that capture key informational data, help organizations regain control and become more intelligent and proactive has never been greater.

Conduent Legal and Compliance Solutions integrate data analytics, technology and expert professional services to help solve risk, compliance, legal and business challenges — fostering sound decisionmaking, smart data capture and reduced costs.

Analytics

We pair our leading analytical capabilities with our technology-enabled services to help clients proactively detect risk hidden in their data. This also decreases overall spend by reducing data sets requiring manual review for legal, investigation, or compliance reviews.

At the heart of our analytics teams are both in-house legal attorneys and in house data scientists skilled in data mining, statistical learning, text analytics, contextual intelligence, natural language processing, machine learning, predictive analytics and other data science techniques. They can apply analytics expertise at every stage in the legal to compliance information lifecycle to optimize cost-savings and deliver the most accurate results and actionable information.

Viewpoint Integrated Analytics: select deployments

Contract Portfolio Analytics

Manage risk through insight into your organization's portfolio of contracts and expanse of structured and unstructured data. Using machine learning, quickly identify risks and proactively resolve costly issues early-on — by understanding business metrics and historic trends and predicting future trends.

Litigation Analytics

Advanced analysis technology to help attorneys make sense of the explosive amounts of data in litigation, reuse work product, find the needle in the haystack and make faster actionable business decisions.

Data Privacy

Protect sensitive employee and customer data in compliance with privacy laws such as GDPR and CCPA, and facilitate the exercise of customer and employee rights over data. Drawing on advanced analytics and subject matter expertise, our data privacy solutions enable companies to proactively identify and remediate areas of risk affecting employee or consumer privacy rights. Quickly respond to subject access requests, optimize performance and enhance accuracy and defensibility.

Communication Analytics

This compliance solution enables companies to evaluate real risks and plan the appropriate actions by detecting and pinpointing potential compliance infractions and "bad actor" communications before they turn into liabilities. Whether providing insight on a look-back or realtime basis, our comprehensive analysis of flagged areas of risk help legal, compliance, risk and audit make informed decisions.
