

Strataware® Bill Review Software

Number one in the industry.

Others claim to have the leading medical bill review software, but only one can truly support the claim. Today, more bills are reviewed and repriced on Strataware than any other software platform.

Maximize Savings on Every Bill, Every Day

Medical bill review is integral for managing workers' compensation medical costs. As a cost containment tool, it can deliver real savings by repricing medical bills to state mandated fee schedules, as well as usual and customary rates. It also ensures that negotiated provider discounts are applied, duplicate billings are caught, and dollars are not paid out for services that were not authorized in utilization review decisions.

Even if your bill volume is relatively small, no one can audit every medical bill for every claim manually and stay on top of the constantly changing fee schedules, PPO network agreements, and regulatory requirements. Strataware delivers the functionality and features you need to accurately adjudicate medical charges and maximize savings, while achieving the best possible outcome for both the injured worker and the claim.

Best-Fit Software Built For You

As a business application delivered using the Software-as-a-Service model (SaaS), Strataware makes good sense from wherever you sit. Executive decision makers like that it's a proven platform and doesn't require a large outlay of capital or internal resource commitment. IT leaders appreciate Strataware's ease of deployment, customization and high level of data security and privacy. And front-line business managers give it thumbs up for amping up their teams' productivity, as well as providing access to real-time, system-wide information and reporting.

Because Strataware is in the cloud, it can grow and scale with your needs. There is no costly infrastructure, and software upgrades and fee schedule changes are implemented as soon as they're available, without disruption.

Every Strataware client receives professional project management support for a smooth implementation, in addition to user training to ensure your organization reaps the full benefit of your new bill review software.

Fee schedules within Strataware are updated as frequently as nightly, and the comprehensive capture of required data elements upon bill entry reduces reporting errors and delays.

We continually plan and implement product refinements and software updates to improve system performance and fortify the security and stability of our platform.

Our in-house team of compliance experts provide fast and proactive responses to regulatory changes to ensure precise bill adjudication, high reporting accuracy and low reconsideration rates.

Features Overview and Benefits

Strataware unifies all aspects of bill review, network alignment and compliance management in one comprehensive cloud solution. Excellent integration with claims systems, PPO/specialty networks, managed care/utilization review systems, OCR/data capture vendors, and eBilling clearinghouses make Strataware a powerful yet flexible platform for workers' compensation payers and self-administered employers to process bills in-house. You'll benefit from extremely efficient bill processing and a range of sophisticated features designed to optimize the flow of work.
